Guest Editor Guidelines

- Who: Anyone within the industry - designers, stylists, photographers, entrepreneurs, PR specialists, etc. - with at least two years in business from anywhere in the world - preferably your native country!
- What: What we look for is professionals and creatives associated with high fashion. However, if we believe that the brand story is inspiring, then they will surely be considered.
- Length: 9-10 questions, 1000 words (introductory caption included) maximum. Please include all necessary hyperlinks in the text.
- Process: Send us a short pitch at info@lesassorties.com outlining who you are interviewing and why you believe they would be the right fit. After submitting your piece, we will review it, and send you an updated draft for approval before publication. Along with the written piece, you are kindly requested to send us images (as well as their credits) to be published alongside the interview. Do not send large attachments; a link through Dropbox or WeTransfer would perfectly work for us.
- Last but not least, do not forget to submit a short bio, link to your blog/work/portfolio and social links, please!
- At the moment, there is no compensation for our guest editors.
